OVERVIEW

Frank devotes his practice to representing employers from many different industries in a variety of Pennsylvania workers' compensation claims. He has successfully defended construction companies, food service companies, nursing homes, pharmaceutical companies, retail stores and supermarkets in cases involving hearing loss due to exposure, occupational noise, psychiatric injuries from abnormal working conditions, injuries from contact with toxic chemicals in the workplace and fatalities.

Frank's articles on important Pennsylvania workers' compensation issues have appeared in well-known employer publications, such as the A.M. Best Insurance Digest, Counterpoint and the Pennsylvania Self Insurers' Association newsletter. He is a writer and editor of the firm's Hot In Workers' Comp, a monthly update on significant developments in Pennsylvania workers' compensation law. Frank has also given numerous presentations and seminars on critical developments in Pennsylvania workers' compensation law to various employer and insurance industry groups, as well as to his colleagues.

In 1986, Frank received his undergraduate degree from Villanova University. He attended the Widener University School of Law and obtained his juris doctor in 1989.

Frank is an active member of the workers' compensation sections of the Pennsylvania and Montgomery Bar associations. He also has a long association with the Upper Merion Lacrosse Club as a member of the board, as well as with the King of Prussia Soccer Club, where he has served as a soccer coach for many years.

THOUGHT LEADERSHIP

Subcontractor is employer directly liable to pay compensation and entitled to pension offset under §204(a), claimant voluntarily withdrew from workforce, entitled subcontractor to suspension of wage loss benefits.

King of Prussia
Workers' Compensation
September 1, 2024

This case involved multiple petitions, two separate decisions from a workers' compensation judge, and appeals to the Workers' Compensation Appeal Board and the Commonwealth Court. What's Hot in Workers' Comp, Vol. 28, No.

A workers' compensation judge did not abuse his discretion in finding that decedent was in an ongoing employment relationship with defendant at the time of death and was not a borrowed servant at the time of his fatality.

King of Prussia
Workers' Compensation
August 1, 2024

This case involved two companies involved in coal mining operations, West Spring and Reading Anthracite Company (RAC). The decedent was employed by West Spring as an equipment operator, but he had been scheduled to be laid off. What's Hot in Workers' Comp, Vol. 28, No.

Court reverses Appeal Board ruling on an entitlement to reinstate benefits as of date claimant returned LIBC-760 form to employer, as benefits were in suspension status because of a judge's prior decision, not for claimant's failure to return the form.

King of Prussia
Workers' Compensation
August 1, 2024

This case involves multiple intertwined rounds of litigation. The claimant was a firefighter who sustained injuries in May 2004, when he fell in a stairwell while pulling down a ceiling in a burning building. What's Hot in Workers' Comp, Vol. 28, No.

Commonwealth Court affirms denial of Claim Petition that alleged occupational disease of lead toxicity.

King of Prussia
Workers' Compensation
July 1, 2024

On August 24, 2018, the claimant advised the employer that he had sustained a work-related injury due to lead exposure. The employer issued a notice of denial on September 1, 2018. What's Hot in Workers' Comp, Vol. 28, No.

Commonwealth Court holds that claimant who was sole proprietor is required to provide notice of work-related injury to workers' compensation insurance carrier within 120 days of occurrence of the injury.

King of Prussia
Workers' Compensation
July 1, 2024

In this case, the claimant was the owner of the employer and the sole employee. He sustained work injuries on September 28, 2015, while coming off a ladder, when he tripped over a shovel, fell backwards and landed on his head. What's Hot in Workers' Comp, Vol. 28, No.

RESULTS

The defense successfully proves flaw in claimant's expert testimony

Workers' Compensation

December 13, 2023

We successfully defended a Claim Petition on behalf of a national trucking company where the claimant alleged a disabling aggravation of a pre-existing cervical condition from a fall at work. Our thorough review of the medical records and the presentation of the evidence convinced the judge that the claimant did not meet his burden of proof on causation.

Successfully Defended a Claim Petition on Behalf of a National Trucking Company

Workers' Compensation

December 11, 2023

We successfully defended a claim on behalf of our client where the answer was late without a reasonable excuse. However, we persuaded the workers' compensation judge that the claim petition was not well-pled as to the main allegation. We further convinced the judge that the claimant did not meet his burden of proof on causation.

Workers' Compensation Appeal Board affirms Judge's decision granting a petition to terminate benefits.

Workers' Compensation

February 16, 2022

The Appeal Board rejected the claimant's argument that the testimony of the employer's medical expert did not support the judge's finding of a termination of benefits for a low back injury because the employer's medical expert testified that if the claimant was asymptomatic in her back prior to her slip and fall in a kitchen at work, the injury may have aggravated a pre-existing, underlying condition in her lumbar spine.
